Reviewer’s report

Title: Prevalence of measured and reported multimorbidity in a representative sample of the Swiss population

Version: 4  Date: 5 February 2015

Reviewer: Daniela Koller

Reviewer’s report:

Dear authors,

thank you for the changes you made in the manuscript, I think now it is a more straight-forward analysis.

I see all my points addressed and answered - I still wish the discussion was more focused on the methodologic aspect and less on the determinants of MM (as those are already known). But the new structure addresses this point so I think this is a good compromise for all results!

There are some minor language issues that would need a read-through.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
